FINE ORE FROM LIPMAN MINES

Assay Returns Just Had Give High Values.

MINING BILL IS DISCUSSED

STRIKE IN INDEPENDENCE GOLD TRAVELS THROUGH MUD. SOUTH OF MONROE.

Secretary Fisher Harris of the Lipman Mines & Tunnel company was exhibiting some mighty fine assay returns from one taken out of the company's Idaho property Saturday evening. One of the samples tried went 109.4 ounces silver, 68.4 per cent lead, while another showed 274.8 ounces silver, 68.4 per cent lead and 40 cents in gold per ton. That is the kind of rock the company will be mining just assoon as the new shaft from the tunnel level has been sent down to a point where connections by drifting can be made with the old workings, some 200 feet distant from the shaft.

Reports from the mine are to the effect that the new hoist is working like a charm and it will be but a short time ill the shaft is down on a level with the bottom of the loid incline. The ore chute there exposed has a trend toward the new shaft, and if the ore body is not cut in sinking it is a sure thing that only a portion of the 200 feet of intervening distance will have to be tra ment which has for its purpose the abrogation of the right of the locator to follow his ledge beyond the perpendicular boundaries of his claim, though not disturbing the "extra-lateral rights" of those who have already acquired title to their properties under existing laws, is thus discussed by the Pacific Coast Miner:

"It is unnecessary to discuss the question as to whether or not such a rule would have been a good thing if enacted in 1866, instead of the law which now prevails. There is no absolute guide in such cases. Every law is generally good or bad according to its conditions and environments. We think that it is now too late in the day to make such a radical change in our mining laws. It is a fundamental principle of both government and jurisprudence in relation to property, that where a certain practice has been for a long time legally recognized it is not proper to change it except it has been found to work the gravest injustice. In other words, that In such cases "it is better to bear the ills we have rather than to rush to others which we know not of."

That such a change in our existing.

In such cases it is better to bear the ins we have rather than to rush to others vhich we know not of."

That such a change in our existing mining laws would result in great confusion and endless litigation cannot be denied. No law can be made, under our constitution that can injuriously effect rights already vested, for this would be akin to confiscation. That the proposed Kearns law could be made to govern all future locations we of course admit. With such a law we would, however, have one set of locations governed by the present system alongside of others existing under the proposed Kearns amendment—the old system, with its right to follow the veins into adjoining lands, and the new system a giving no right to do such thing. Such a result would, we think, produce confusion, worse confounded, that we cannot see how the results would be beneficial as a whole. The passage of such a law would impose a new burden on the mining industry, grievous to be ficial as a whole. The passage of such a law would impose a new burden on the mining industry, grievous to be borne and would renew an era of minthe mining industry, greeted to the mining industry, greeted and the lact that has now almost burned itself out for the lack of fuel burned itself out for the lack of fuel through." repplied from 'unsettled points of

HINT TO UTAH PROSPECTORS. dil Land Locators Want to Reckon With Railroads.

A controversy has arisen in southern Wyoming between the Union Pacific Railroad company and prospectors who tre scarching on the odd numbered sec-tions claimed by the railroad company trict which they located Jan. I.

Manager Tarbet came in from the Estella Wednesday and reported that rapid progress was being made on the new spart, which is now down seventy-five feet, with the steam holst in operation. The Estella miners were paid off on Tuesday.

E. H. Sprague of Boise, a stockhelder in the discovery of good, copper or other netal mine after the title has passed to the railroad, is not included in the land excepted from the grant. The Wyoming prospectors are searching for both ceal and petroleum, but as coal lands are distinctly excepted from the statute which reserves the mineral lands, the prospectors have little to hope for in that direction.

Petroleum lands, however, are recosting to the grant of the statute which reserves the mineral lands, the prospectors have little to hope for in that direction.

nized as mineral and are subject to location on the public domain, and lands within the railroad grants which are discovered to be oil bearing before the railroad company has acquired title to them are subject to location as mineral lands. It is reported that the Union Pacific company has posted notices warning prospectors that they must confine their explorations to the land of the public domain. Prospectors before searching for mineral on these lands, awould do well to ascertain the state of the title to any particular section of land, for where the railroad company has perfected its title the case of the prospector is hopeless.

A sample will be sent to some mineral alogical expert for examination.

No assays have yet been made, so it is not known what values they carry. The property is in the neighborhood of some of the Franklin ground and is most promising to the owners.

Conditions continue to grow more favorable at the Trapper's Pride property, on Gold Mountain. The tunnel is in readiness to begin active operations. Our office supplies and furniture are in the time. The practical and systematic development work of Superintendent A. D. MacLain is placing this property in condition for blocking out ore, and the building of a mill next summer will be a necessity.
